Curtis Industries Receives ISO 9001:2000 Certification

Curtis Industries, a Division of Powers Holdings, Inc., with locations in Milwaukee, WI and Nogales, Mexico, was recently certified for conformance to ISO 9001:2000 standards for its quality management systems. Steven Powers, President, stated, "Credit goes to all of our employees for their dedication and hard work in achieving this significant milestone."

Curtis Industries has been in business for 75 years, and has a significant market share in filters and terminal blocks. The company has a reputation for high quality, quick and responsive delivery of both standard and custom products to meet its customer's demands.

Curtis Industries is a quality manufacturer of EMI Filters, Terminal Blocks and Liquid Level Controls. Curtis' products are manufactured under a rigorous component qualification program and 100% inspected with the latest technology in automated testing prior to shipping.

Curtis offers pre-compliance EMC testing service to assist customers in the selection of the appropriate filter for their specific applications.
